

Presented to Every Reader of The Richmond Times-Dispatch

Many dictionaries of various kinds have been placed on the market, but none could pass muster with THE TIMES-DISPATCH. Finally a large publishing house of New York City brought together the world's greatest authorities on the English language and the result is this New Websterian 1912 Dictionary, Illustrated, which a syndicate of leading newspapers immediately secured for the purpose of following out a plan of education throughout the country. So for a short time THE TIMES-DISPATCH, in connection with these other papers, will offer this LATEST dictionary on the remarkable terms outlined herein, before it is placed on sale at the stores at the regular retail prices.

This Is What They Say of It

"A knowledge of words and their meaning is a fundamental factor in all education, and the newspaper is doing itself honor in undertaking and presenting an enterprise so germane to the needs of English-speaking people."—DR. C. H. PARK-HURST, New York City.

"This plan, which places within the reach of thousands so valuable and complete a volume at such a nominal outlay is surely a great public benefaction, and most certainly worthy of great commendation."—JUDGE HENRY S. HURLBUT, Detroit, Mich.

"I have just secured two copies for my boys, and am astonished at the wonderful volumes they are for the money. I wish every family, and especially every school child, could have a copy."—REV. OLIVER HUCKEL, Baltimore, Md.

"I am vastly pleased with the contents and the way it is put together, making it unusually handy for the student's use."—JOSHUA W. WILLIS, Principal Grammar School, Buffalo, N. Y.
